Delta Sigma Theta

The month of October was an exciting and memorable month for the ladies of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. During this month, the ladies of Delta were excited to prepare and participate in Homecoming Week 2007. Delta Sigma Theta participated in the Homecoming Banner Contest and also nominated Nu Theta's own Rebecca Allen for Homecoming Queen. Also during this week, the Delta's were in the Homecoming parade with Troy's Delta Gems and Delta Academy girls.

The Nu Theta Chapter also donated can goods for the needy and participated in the All Greek Flag Football Game on October 29, and the team that the Deltas were apart of won. To finish off the month of October on a fun note, Nu

Theta participated in the Annual Haunted Hill event put on by the Greek organizations of Troy University, along with Kappa Delta, Kappa Sigma, and Kappa Alpha Psi. This event allowed the local trick-or-treaters to come and get candy and have fun. Nu Theta also participated in the NPHC's Annual Halloween party, where many college students come out dressed in their favorite costumes. The month of October was a fun-filled month for the ladies of Delta Sigma Theta.

Kappa Delta

Along with participating in the Homecoming festivities at Troy University, Kappa Delta held a Halloween Party at Troy Health and Rehabilitation Center for the residents and participated in Haunted Hill. The Halloween party with the residents at Troy Health and Rehabilitation Center was in place of our normal Banana Bingo philanthropy. We, along with Farmhouse Fraternity, served treats to the residents. At Haunted Hill, we painted children's faces and gave away candy and goodies to the children. Kappa Delta enjoyed being able to dress up for the month of October!

Sigma Gamma Rho

Sigma Gamma Rho was very active in the community these past few months. Sigma Gamma Rho kicked off the school year by helping incoming freshmen move into their doors, which we all know can be a very daunting task. The sorority also hosted an auction in which attendees were asked to bring canned goods which were donated to the local Department of Human Resources. Members of the sorority continued helping others by tutoring students and aiding Sigma Gamma Rho's little sisters, the Rhoers, in their preparation for their upcoming step show. Sigma Gamma Rho ended September by participating in Iota Eta Sigma's "Hattie McDaniel Day" at the Pike County Fair. While participating they handed out pamphlets, stickers, pins, and pencils to support Breast Cancer awareness. Though October was a very hectic month, Sigma Gamma Rho participated in the annual Greek Flag Football Game and ended the month on a festive note playing Halloween bingo with the senior citizens at the Colley Senior Complex and passing out treats to the children on Sorority Hill. Ultimately, Sigma Gamma Rho has been very active these past few months and plans to continue living by the slogan "Greater Service, Greater Progress" in the months to come.

Alpha Gamma Delta

October was a very busy month for the ladies of Alpha Gamma Delta. We started the month in preparation and anticipation for Homecoming. It was a great opportunity to spend time together and create lasting memories with each other. We would like to thank our seniors, who were celebrating their last Homecoming as collegians, for making all those late nights fun and keeping us motivated! The best part of Homecoming, however, was gathering with our sisters at Movie Gallery Stadium and cheering on our Trojans to victory! Also, Initiation was held this month. Our new members became sister of Alpha Gamma Delta! The chapter is so proud of each of them and greatly appreciate all of the wonderful qualities they add to the sorority. As Halloween approached, Alpha Gam's donned their costumes for Haunted Hill, and even braved a haunted hay ride! Both events were truly enjoyable and not soon to be forgotten. For our sorority, October was all about sisterhood and friendship!

FarmHouse

In the month of October, the brothers of FarmHouse Fraternity helped lead praise and worship at 8:29, a Wednesday night worship service at the First Baptist Church in Troy. One of our brothers also volunteers as a coach at Trinity Presbyterian School, coaching seventh and eighth grade football. Another group of brothers participated in the Project Passion Church Outreach Program. We also had a few brothers go to Charles Henderson High School and help coach the CHHS soccer team. Also, a couple of our members went to help out at a carnival at Troy Elementary School. We also took up collections and helped to raise and donate some money to the James Tincombe Memorial Fund, to help one of our pledges out when his father passed away last month.

Phi Beta Sigma

Behind the leadership of chapter President Tyran Brooks, the 2007 members of Alpha Alpha Lambda chapter of Phi Beta Sigma, has made tremendous attributes, not only to their organization, but also to the local community. In the month of October the brothers, of this chapter, of Phi Beta Sigma have taken part in several great community service projects. Including:

Adopt a mile, Lemonade Stand for Cancer, in which $120 was raised. Also the biggest project the fraternity has taken on is what they call Adopt a family. This includes adopting a local single parent household donating and undisclosed amount of money to the family each month. The hard work put forward by these young men in the community has really had its rewards. But one of the biggest rewards for the brothers of Alpha Alpha Lambda chapter of Phi Beta Sigma thus far this year, came on October 20th 2007. After being absent from the Homecoming Step Show for 5 years and after long nights of practice between busy schedules these brother are the 2007 Homecoming Step Show Champions.

Lambda Chi Alpha

The brothers and associates of Lambda Chi Alpha have been working very hard the past month raising money for our philanthropies, as well as orchestrating community service projects. We have been participating in "Reach Out and Read" by reading to local children at Charles Henderson Child Health Care Center (CHCHC). Lambda Chi recently hosted two separate events to raise money for

(a) books for the CHCHC and (b) our national philanthropy, The North American Food Drive. We held a raffle at Pic N Sav, a local grocery store for $100.00 of free groceries, and the following week held "Penny Wars," in which the sororities competed by donating money. The results of the two events turned out to be very successful, as Lambda Chi Alpha will be donating over 100 books to CHCHC, and raised enough money to donate 5,580 pounds of food to The North American Food Drive. At this time I currently don't have any pictures developed for me to attach to this email. I can however provide them later if need be. If you have any questions please contact Chad King (V.P. External), 334-372-2844.
